Disclaimer

Liability for the contents

In compliance with general legislation, we, as the service provider, are responsible for our own content on these pages pursuant to § 7 section 1 TMG (German Telemedia Act). However, pursuant to §§ 8 to 10 TMG we, as the service provider, are not obliged to monitor transmitted or stored third party data nor to investigate circumstances that indicate illegal activities. Obligations to remove or block the usage of information in accordance with general legislation remain unaffected hereby. However, any respective liability is only possible from the moment we become aware of a specific legal infringement. Once aware of any legal infringement we shall remove any such content immediately.

Liability for links

Our website contains links to external third party websites whose content is beyond our control. Therefore, we are unable to accept liability for third-party contents. The respective provider or operator of any website is responsible for the content of the linked pages. At the time of placing the link, the linked pages were checked for possible legal infringements. At the time of placing the link, illegal content was not apparent. However, permanent monitoring of linked pages without concrete indication of a legal infringement is unreasonable. Once aware of any legal infringement, we shall remove any such links immediately.

Duplication, processing, distribution or any kind of use beyond the scope of the copyright law require the written approval of the respective author or creator. Downloads or copies of this site are only permitted for private not for commercial use. Insofar as any content of this site was not created by the operator, third-party copyrights are observed. Furthermore, third-party content is identified as such. Should you, nevertheless, become aware of any copyright infringement, please notify us. Once aware of any legal infringement, we shall remove such content immediately.

If personal data is collected on our pages (for example name, address or e-mail addresses) disclosure is always voluntary insofar as possible. Without your explicit approval no such data is transmitted to third parties.

Please note that online data transmission (for example e-mail correspondence) may have security vulnerabilities. Therefore, complete protection of data from third-party access is not possible.

Hereby, we expressly object to any third-party use of contact data published as part of our imprint obligations for the transmission of not explicitly requested advertising or information material. In case of unsolicited sending of advertising information, for example through spam mails, we expressly reserve the right to take legal steps.
